

AAM Regular Membership

AAM amplifies your voice, advocates for your interests and helps your business grow.

Invest in AAM membership, there is no better way to stay informed on the legislative climate that affects the generics and biosimilars industry – and your bottom line.

As the unifying and organizing force within the generics and biosimilars industry, AAM advocates on behalf of our members, supporting and protecting their ability to thrive and innovate.

AAM educates stakeholders – from lawmakers to the media to patients and providers – about the role of generics and biosimilars in health care.

AAM advises the government and our members how policies affect our industry and the patients we serve.

“AAM is my ‘go-to’ source—just a phone call away—when I need information about a legislative issue.”

Keren Haruvi
President, Sandoz US,
Head of North America
